

Switch to BlackBerry® UEM for Superior Security and Productivity

Facing Challenges with Your Current UEM Solution?

Today's hybrid work environment demands a delicate balance between enabling employees, ensuring security, maintaining privacy, and adhering to regulatory requirements. If your current UEM solution isn't keeping up, it's time for a change. With BlackBerry® Unified Endpoint Management (UEM), organizations can maintain granular control and visibility to secure all endpoints. For a limited time, BlackBerry is offering current AirWatch/VMware, MobileIron/Ivanti and Citrix UEM customers the opportunity to perform a zero cost and frictionless replacement of their current UEM solution.

ZERO COST & FRICTIONLESS REPLACEMENT

Take advantage of the opportunity to perform a zero cost and frictionless replacement, ensuring a smooth transition to BlackBerry® UEM without additional financial burden or operational downtime.

Overview:

- This offer is available to any existing AirWatch/VMware, MobileIron/Ivanti and Citrix UEM (“third party”) customer whose license is up for renewal within the next 12 months.
- This offer includes a free subscription of up to 12 months to cover the remaining months the customer has under its contract with the third party if the customer enters a minimum 12-month subscription contract for the same or higher volume of licenses for BlackBerry® UEM Suite or BlackBerry® UEM Express Suite.

Example:

A customer currently has in August 2024 a contract with with AirWatch for 1,000 licenses, expiring in May 2025.

We will offer a 10-month free subscription for 1,000 BlackBerry® UEM Suite licenses (August 2024 to May 2025) if customer commits to a 12-month paid subscription contract for 1,000 BlackBerry® UEM Suite licenses (June 2025 to May 2026).

WHY BLACKBERRY UEM?

For the second year in a row, BlackBerry is recognized in the top-right quadrant of the Gartner® Peer Insights™ 'Voice of the Customer': UEM Tools report. This recognition is based on direct customer reviews and peer perspectives, highlighting the positive experiences of implementing and operating BlackBerry® UEM.

READY FOR A BETTER UEM EXPERIENCE?

Don't compromise on security or productivity. Switch to BlackBerry® UEM and experience a consistent, secure, and efficient endpoint management solution tailored for today's hybrid work environment.
